Digital Media Partner Programme?

After years of being involved in digital signage, we have recognised that selling a system involves more than just shipping a display. As a specialist distributor, True Colours has invested in a focused team to develop and look after customers interested in being involved in the digital media markets.

The partner programme is open to integrators and resellers that meet a basic level of knowledge within the AV and IT markets.

Digital Signage and Media Distribution Guide

This new guide from True Colours Distribution, the UK's leading technical AV distributor, explores the various digital media solutions that are available to you, and outlines the important questions you must ask before you sell an integrated system. Call today for your definitive guide.

Top Brands, One Distributor
