PixiePro Modular Panel (PX2-RCI-IR)

Intuitive, scalable control in an elegant and affordable package.

The PixiePro Modular Panel (PX2-RCI-IR) is a customizable AV control interface. It stands alone as an IR-learning control system based on SP Controls' proven Pixie™ technology. Or, in conjunction with other PixiePro products, it serves as an elegant interface to the next-generation of managed AV room solutions. Either way, the Modular Panel is easy to configure, customize, and use.

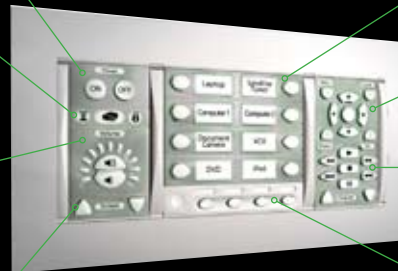

Power button options compatible with any display.

Optional device status display (not applicable in standalone mode).

Volume control and display (when available). Optional blank module if no audio control is needed.

Optionally Control screens, lifts, and other devices via IR (or relays when used with other PixiePro products).

Choose as few as one or as many as eight source selection buttons.

Navigate media or display device menus (optional).

Standard controls for media devices such as VCRs and DVD players (optional).

Auxiliary functions such as mute, auto sync, or PIP (optional).

Modular design: each module may optionally be replaced with a blank (all modules included with Panel).
